CATALOGUE.

MEDALS OF UNION OFFICERS, Etc.

It will be noticed that, though this collection contains few relics of the war of 1861–1865, it is largely made up of reminders of the war, to which we are indebted for our Fractional Currency, our private Metallic Currency, our Revenue Stamps, Corps Badges, Union Envelopes, and indeed nearly all of the objects described in the first part of the Catalogue.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

METALLIC CURRENCY OF THE WAR, 1861–65.

The following Tokens comprise two collections, one formed in Springfield, Mass., the other in Cincinnati, Ohio. In assorting them great care has been taken to remove the duplicates, very few of which, if any, will be found in the entire lot. In the whole collection are scarcely any poor pieces; nearly all are good or fine, many are uncirculated, and a few are proofs. They are grouped according to location merely.

164 New England. 6 pieces.

165 New York State; various towns and cities. 31 pieces.

166 New York City; all of large size. 20 pieces.

167 New York City; some large. 58 pieces.

168 New Jersey. 3 pieces.

169 Pennsylvania: various places. 8 pieces.

170 Pennsylvania: Pittsburgh. 14 pieces.

171 Pennsylvania: Alleghany City. 6 pieces.

172 Maryland and West Virginia. 3 pieces.

173 Ohio: various places. 42 pieces.

174 Ohio; various places. 24 pieces.

175 Ohio; Cincinnati. 40 pieces.

176 Ohio; Cincinnati. 43 pieces.
177 Wisconsin; various places. 49 pieces.
178 Wisconsin; various places. 32 pieces.
179 Michigan; various places. 29 pieces.
180 Indiana; various places. 22 pieces.
181 Illinois; various places. 28 pieces.
182 Kentucky and Missouri. 4 pieces.

UNION ENVELOPES.

This collection of Union envelopes, comprising 7,362 pieces, is the most extensive that I have ever seen, and I know not if any other equally large exists. Great pains have been taken to remove all duplicates, but the number is so great that it is not unlikely a few have escaped notice, but probably less than 100 duplicates can be found in the entire lot.

Any difference whatever in design, motto or inscription, size or quality, is held to constitute a variety, but no distinction is made on account of an accidental difference in color. They are all unused, and, with scarcely an exception, in very fine condition. They were collected during the war, and from that time to this, till within a few days, have not been handled.

Few remarks are made concerning their rarity; suffice it to say, I believe it would be nearly impossible to duplicate any single lot in the Catalogue. No attempt at description is made; they are simply classified and thrown into lots, having some simple characteristic.

Should a satisfactory bid be made for the entire collection or any considerable part of it, it will be sold entire or in large lots; otherwise in single lots — all bids to be made so much for each piece.

WAR POSTERS, 1861–1865.

A collection formed during the war. As few people at that period turned their attention to this class of War Records, they are now, with scarcely an exception, rare to excess. Newspapers, Books, and Pamphlets, of which an innumerable host were printed illustrating this period, fail to make known the state of public feeling so vividly portrayed by these brief, but at the time, conspicuous appeals. They are all in fine condition, mostly on white paper; the colors in which they are printed are indicated by the abbreviations: b., black; bl., blue; g., green; p., purple, and r., red. The numbers at the end indicate the size in inches.

1307 A description of 268 varieties of U. S. Cents, 1810–57, in the collection of Frank D. Andrews, 1861.

This unpretending little book of fifty-four pages is the work of an original investigator, and is a real and not a pretended contribution to numismatic science. It may with truth be said of it, "a work of indispensable necessity to Collectors of American Copper Coins." With the exception of Mayr's "Varieties of the Copper Issues of the United States Mint in the year 1794," and Crosby's account of the Cents of 1793, published with Levick's Plate in the American Journal of Numismatics, and "Appleton's Issues of the Mint of the United States," printed in the same Journal, and reprinted in a small edition, it is the only work that has ever appeared on this specialty of any importance whatever. True, a sumptuous and presumptuous volume has been printed on the subject, but a diligent perusal will convince any person that it is perhaps the only book ever written, from which no new fact could be gleaned. Having carefully read it, I fail to discover in it anything new, except numerous ridiculous blunders of the author, who I judge wrote his book in a hurry, to suit his pictures, and published it under the impression so elegantly expressed by one of his learned confreres, that "The Americans are fools and will buy anything."

THE

Medals of the Masonic Fraternity.

BY

W. T. R. MARVIN.

This work announced January 20, 1880, two parts of which were issued at that time, and which it was then hoped would be completed early in the year, is now nearly ready for delivery.

The long delay has been caused by the constant accession of new materials. Many undescribed and almost unknown Medals have been brought to light, and Mr. Marvin has continued his labor far beyond what was at first intended: the result of all this has been to the author much gratuitous labor and expense, to the publisher a vexatious delay, and to the subscribers a Work greatly increased in value and considerably in magnitude beyond what was promised. The author's labor is now completed, and the whole work will be ready in May at the latest. A few copies remain unsold in paper, uncut, at the original subscription price of $10.

THE NEXT SALE

Of this series will probably be of the Marvin Collection of Masonic Medals. The Catalogue will probably be issued and the sale held in May, though other engagements may cause some delay.

The Catalogue will contain several illustrative plates; and a small edition will be printed with two or more fine heliotype plates, and possibly another illustration in gold and colors. Copies with plates will be sent only to order, at 50 cents each. The same on thick tinted paper, 75 cents each, and with the addition of prices, $1.25 each.

Other sales of the series will be announced in due time, and it is perhaps not unlikely that another will precede that of the Marvin Collection.

Gentlemen who receive the present Catalogue will find laid in it a plate showing the style of illustrations in the work advertised on the third page of this cover.
